Case No. CV415-310

ORDER

Thinking that defendant TransUnion LLC failed to answer his Complaint, Mallie Seckinger moves for a default judgment. Doc. 10. TransUnion, however, in fact timely answered. Doc. 8. It relied on the Court's electronic docketing software to serve Seckinger, yet it was unaware that pro se parties cannot receive E-filed notices. See id. at 8 (TransUnion's certificate of service stating that CM/ECF "will send a notice of electronic filing" to Seckinger). Regardless of its error, TransUnion is not in default, so Seckinger's motion is DENIED AS MOOT.

SO ORDERED, this 17th day of February, 2016.
